$6,552,974 County Budget Proposed

Raised $871,077; $40
Monthly Pay Hikes for All County Employees

A tentative Madison county budget totaling a record $6,552,974, an increase of $871,077 over that of last year, was proposed Friday morning by the finance committee of the Madison county board of supervisors at a press conference at the courthouse annex in Edwardsville.

The appropriations include salary increases of $40 per month for all full-time employees and $20 per month for part-time employees.

The budget will cover the year beginning Dec. 1, 1969, and ending Nov. 30, 1970.

Work on proposed tax levies has yet to be completed.

Nelson Hagnauer, Granite City township supervisor and finance committee chairman who hopes to cut the county general fund rate of 10 cents, said, "We will know more about the tax rate cut when we work on the levy next week."

It was announced that the tuberculosis sanatorium tax rate will be decreased by 3/4 cents from its current 6 1/2 cents. Of the total increase, $863,853 is in the county general fund budget which totals $2,979,337. The budgets for special purposes total $3,573,537, an increase of $227,223.

Law, Order Budget

The document was termed a "law and order" budget as it is the area of the greatest increase and involves both juveniles and adults.

The sheriff's appropriation was increased by about $112,000 for additional night riders, four patrol cars and additional food and drugs for jail inmates. The total sheriff's appropriation for salaries is $971,686 and provides $345,600 for 45 deputies and $72,000 for the added night riders.

Salary adjustments and staff increases were made in the state's department and public defender departments.

Attorney Assistants

About $55,000 was added to the budget for assistant state attorneys, bringing the total to $139,600 for 15 men and three law students at $3 per hour for eight-hour day, eight-hour night. The other 38 deputies are being added and one is switching from part to full-time duties.

State's Atty. R. W. Griffith plans to propose that sheriff's deputies make traffic arrests, and if the proposed deputies make only 10 arrests a month each, the minimum fine would total over $90,000.

His office also plans to consult with judges to institute a program of more substantial fines in lieu of imprisonment to increase income.

Public Defenders

An appropriation of $76,350 was set for the public defenders.

Bi-State to Expand 'Exact-Fare' System

The "exact fare plan" which has been in operation on the lines of the Illinois sector of the metropolitan area since last February will be expanded to apply to the entire Bi-State Transit System in both Illinois and Missouri, it was announced today.

The system will be initiated in the Missouri area of the Bi-State system Dec. 1, it was said, as a further measure to protect passengers and eliminate exposure of bus operators to robberies.

Under the exact-fare plan, which has met full acceptance and cooperation on the Illinois lines, bus operators carry no money to make change. Passengers, therefore, must have the correct change for their fare or ride with a weekly pass. Since the system has been in use in Illinois there have been only two robberies, and in each case the robber obtained only a small amount of personal money carried by the driver—less than $3 in each case.

'Tree of Lights'

presented a tambourine musical selection, led by Miss Ruth Stover.

Original Kickoff Song

Miss Cathy Crawshaw, an SIU-SW student, sang two numbers, including an original kickoff song written by Mrs. Chaboude, utilizing the melody of "Do You Care?"

Kickoff speaker was William F. Winter, associate editor of the Press-Record, who cited current Salvation Army activities in Vietnam and recalled local canteen services during a 1944 flood threat and during 1961 rescue efforts following a plant explosion.

Originating in St. Louis in 1945 and now worldwide, the Tree of Lights became the theme of the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer program to spotlight the role of the public in brightening the holiday season and the lives of others, the gathering of about 60 persons was told.

The Tree of Lights enables Quad-Cityans to translate their regard for others into tangible, effective action, Winter said.

The message conveyed is that local residents, employees, businesses and organizations want to look beyond their personal concerns to the well-being and happiness of everyone in their community and in other communities, he concluded.

Holiday Joy—By Sharing

The kickoff song "Will you care, and give a helping hand? Do care? We know you do."

The song by Mrs. Chaboude continued, "It's so good to confess that you find happiness, always giving your best, the way you do."

"Sure, you care. That's why you're here today. And we'll share in every way."

"When all the lights upon that tree shine on our great community, merry Christmas to all—because you cared."

Other townships that make up the 53rd Senatorial district include Alton, Edwardsville, Wood River, Godfrey, Jarvis and Pin Oak.

Expect Light Vote

A light vote is anticipated in view of the record low vote cast in the Sept. 23 primary.

Only 1208 voters out of a registration of 20,000 cast ballots in Granite City during the primary. A total of only 2887 votes were cast in all four townships of the Quad-City area, or 7% of the voter registration.

While the election of con-con delegates is held on a non-partisan basis, campaigning in some instances has followed political lines. Republican leaders, particularly in the Alton area, have concentrated their efforts in behalf of Mrs. Young, who is the only one of the four candidates who is a Republican.

MORE ABOUT County Budget

office which includes $65,700 for the salaries of the public defender, four assistants and a staff assistant, an increase of $45,700.

The $40 monthly salary increase for 116 full-time employees, plus $20 monthly hikes for 20 part-time employees, is reflected in the general fund budget, the finance committee noted.

Other employee increases are included in the special tax services.

Hagnauer and the committee commented that "there were the years, when the county's financial condition was poor, and we were attempting to operate on a fraction over five cents per $100 assessed valuation."

"During these 'lean' years, the employees were very considerate and understanding and made no requests for increases."

"At other times, we were only able to grant a $10 per month increase, and this was accepted by the employees."

The spirit it was offered. With an approximate seven per cent cost of living increase, plus the state income tax, we feel this $40 per month is an equitable figure."

Some of the increases will be offset by additional fees permitted by new laws passed during the last session of the State Legislature and in increased excess fees in the various fee offices.

$410,202 Decrease

The appropriation for the county juvenile detention home was cut by $410,202 to $194,046 as last year's budget included construction costs of $318,000 and contingencies of $40,000.

A new mandatory item in the budget provides for the office of supervisor of assessments to be created by Jan. 1, 1971, and $105,500 was appropriated to cover a six-month period.

Another new item provides $265,000 for studies by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Plan Commission for housing, water and sewerage and the Silver Creek flood control project.

The amount is the county's share, with the federal government to bear the major cost of studies covering three counties.

Face Two Elections
The committee noted that the county will be faced with financing two major elections in 1970 which will cost about $12,000. A one-cent tax rate is permitted by statute and will pay about half of the cost.

Also included in the budget is $350,000 for conversion of the tuberculosis sanatorium into a mental health department for construction of a tuberculosis clinic. The nursing home appropriation is a new item.

Mental Health Clinic
The appropriation for the Granite City center of the county mental health department was cut from $132,900 to $102,770, but Hagnauer said it is the amount requested by the center. The Granite City clinic is the center of a current dispute, and Hagnauer said the County Mental Health (1969) Board has made no commitment to spend the appropriation.

Hagnauer added that if the clinic should be closed, the 706 board has guaranteed that it would be reopened after a maximum of two days, and that a staff would be available.

Budget for Parks
A total of $29,800 was appropriated for parks and recreation, including $20,000 for acquisition of ground, as a new item. Hagnauer said the county has no definite park site in mind but that letters have been sent to county board members to determine potential sites in their townships.

Marshall A. Smith, assistant state's attorney, said the county may "inhale" a park, an old dump of eight or 10 acres in the area of Route 111 and 162 as the owner is expected to forfeit his rights to the land.

The budget is out of balance by $800,000 to $850,000, according to county Auditor John Kraynak, but he assured that the county will end the year in the black.

Smith commented that a recent decision by the U. S. Supreme Court saved the county more than $100,000, in jury trials. The court ruled that trial, and not required in juvenile cases.

A breakdown and comparison of the budget shows:

Judges: $655,000, up $75,710; county general expense, $320,710, up $43,825; Madison county nursing home, $221,258, up $28,918; welfare work other than nursing home, $93,500, down $8000; administrative expense—court-house, $218,715, up $35,261; administrative expense other than courthouse, $828,895, up $188,880; expense, $58,880, up $7150; miscellaneous, $533,216, up $240,610; contingencies, $141,700, up $49,800; total general county purpose funds, $2,979,337, up $843,854.

A. O. Smith Corp. Acquiring Firm At Eureka, Ill.

A preliminary agreement for A. O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., to acquire Advanced Systems, Inc., of Eureka, Ill., was announced today by L. B. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer of A. O. Smith Corp. A. O. Smith Harvestore is a wholly-owned subsidiary of A. O. Smith.

Advanced Systems operates a 35,000 square foot facility in Eureka, and manufactures automated livestock feeding equipment. The company has about 45 employees.

Smith said he hopes the final agreement can be completed and approved by Jan. 1. Advanced Systems is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Harper & Sauder, Inc., also of Eureka. Harper & Sauder shareholders must approve the final agreement.

Details of the final agreement are still being worked out, Smith said.

Advanced Systems manufactures motor-driven belt feeders, conveyors and weighers used in feeding beef cattle, dairy cows and hogs. The equipment is used in conjunction with A. O. Smith's Harvestore livestock feed and processing systems.

Acquisition of Advanced Systems will be the third expansion of A. O. Smith in agriculture in the past few months.

In September the company acquired the Layne & Bowler Pump Co. of Los Angeles. Layne & Bowler manufactures vertical turbine pumps and center pivot irrigation systems.

Also in September, A. O. Smith formed a joint venture company in England, Howard Harvestore Ltd., to manufacture and market Harvestore livestock feed and processing systems worldwide except in North America.

A. O. Smith is a widely diversified manufacturer of auto and truck, farm, electric motors, electrical controls, meter systems, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, water heating equipment and other products.

Auto Damaged

As he was driving north on Highway 67, near the A. O. Smith plant, about 5 p.m. Thursday, Charles L. Osburn, 1218 Pontoon road, reported to police that a sheet of plywood decking blew loose from a southbound tractor-trailer truck and landed across the hood of his auto, damaging the hood and windshield.

economic entity and more people must deal with it as an entity if they are to deal with the area at all.

Well Being of Area Vital
"It is hard to imagine business and industry flourishing in central cities racked with disorder, torn apart by tensions, choked by their own masses and polluted by their own waste. Likewise, any firm whose market is a metropolitan region must enter the well-being of that region in its book of accounts, because the well-being of its region will be an important factor in determining profit or loss," he commented.

Ross suggested that improving the community's economic health was a job of such sizeable proportions that a clear division of responsibility should be made between community development and economic development.

He stressed that cooperation between organizations designed to better each segment of the community is necessary, and cited communication and working relationships developed with over 60 chambers of commerce, local development groups, labor-management, professional groups and area universities.

Army Commendation Medal Presented to Sp/4 Holland

Specialist Four James L. Holland, who was wounded in a weapons accident on July 19 while serving in Vietnam, recently received the Army Commendation Medal at the Hines Veteran Hospital in Hines, Ill., where he is being treated.

The citation accompanying the medal was by direction of the secretary of the Army. Stanley R. Recor and read as follows:

"The Army Commendation Medal is presented to Specialist Four James L. Holland, USA, who distinguished himself by exceptional meritorious service in support of military operations against communist aggression in the Republic of Vietnam, during the period August 1968 to August 1969.

He assiduously surmounted extremely adverse conditions to obtain consistently superior results. Through diligence and determination he invariably accomplished every task with dispatch and efficiency.

Delegate Candidate Would Disclose Income

Ray Johnson of Troy, a candidate for the Illinois constitutional convention from the 33rd district in Tuesday's election, has announced that he would make his income public during the time he would serve as a delegate.

Johnson said two reasons prompted him to take the action: He thinks that public disclosure by elected officials is a good practice, and the public is concerned over possible spending by lobbyist groups to influence provisions of the constitution.

"The constitutional convention will be dealing with important areas involving the lives of all our citizens, and its effectiveness should not be limited by individuals seeking any personal gain," he said.

Johnson added that he would favor strong conflict-of-interest clauses for the judicial and legislative branches and that people have the right to expect proper behavior on the part of their delegates.

"My associates know I would not accept any money or gifts of this type but I am taking this action to assure all citizens of my position," Johnson said.

He added that he will make himself available to the public during the convention and also from the close of the convention until the election on a new constitution.

"The general public should have every opportunity to know the reasoning behind what is included or excluded in the proposed changes in order to cast an informed vote."

New Two-Campus Director Created By SIU Trustees

A new administrative position carrying broad responsibilities for financial and business affairs has been created at Southern Illinois University.

The office of University Director was created by SIU's board of trustees at a special meeting last week at Carbondale.

At the same meeting, the board also acknowledged an intended gift to the SIU Foundation of $1 million from Chicago philanthropist W. Clement Stone for purchase of the University House on the campus here. The board also announced that construction of the new facility will be suspended until matters involving its funding, use, and decision-making processes affecting SIU.

Citing recent controversy over University House, the statement continued:

"It has never been—nor is it now—the intent of the Board (SIU) to disregard either the policies or important responsibilities of the Board of Higher Education. The finest spirit of cooperation, however, does not fully preclude the development of misunderstandings, mistakes, or errors in judgment between autonomous governing boards and the Board of Higher Education."

The trustees said that under Illinois' higher education system they are granted powers to govern matters of internal decision-making, and that they regretted that "our considered judgment in the matter of University House was not congruent with the interpretation of the Board of Higher Education."

The Stone gift was acknowledged by the trustees with "appreciation for the confidence and pride Mr. Stone has expressed in this University and its officials."

Stone plans to give the SIU Foundation $1 million worth of stock in his Consolidated Insurance Co. of America, enabling it to then purchase the facility for the use of SIU. The Foundation is a non-profit corporation which accepts and administers such gifts for the University.

The board resolved to consult with the Board of Higher Education before completing arrangements with the Foundation on the gift.

The board completed final approval of SIU's operating budget request for the next fiscal year. Two items totaling $120,959 were dropped off, bringing the budget request to $111,768,332. The deleted items were new programs in self-taught shorthand and hotel-motel-restaurant operation, both to have been associate-degree offerings at the Southwestern campus.

Bigham, 38, of 255 East 24th street, which was halted at a signal light. Bigham was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he underwent x-ray before being released.

Only one avenue of admission for the winter month quarter at Eastern Illinois University at Charleston is still open. A University official said today.

This includes freshmen, transfers, undergraduate former students, and graduate students not previously enrolled. Freshman and transfer enrollment was stopped on Oct. 31 and Taber said on Nov. 4 that closures in other categories would come "in a short time."

Winter quarter registration is scheduled for December 3 and classes begin on Dec. 4.

Thanksgiving Turkey Still Good Buy, SIU Expert Says

(This is the first of a series of two articles on turkeys prepared by Albert Meyer of the SIU-Carbondale news services staff.)

Housewives arranging for the Thanksgiving turkey at the supermarket meat counter this month will get a good buy but may pay two or three cents a pound more for the oven-dressed bird this year than last, according to government reports and Southern Illinois University poultry specialists.

Turkey production, like the broiler chicken industry, has become a highly automated, integrated business with large turkey farms and specialized processing units. This has kept the retail prices down sufficiently to make turkeys a good meat buy at almost any time of the year. Poultrymen push the sale of turkeys the year round but most families still consider these birds something special for the holiday seasons.

Total production this year is estimated at about 106.5 million turkeys, the same number as last year. The tonnage may be slightly higher because the current trend continues toward growing heavier breeds.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture now estimates turkey farmers may get just a shade more per pound during the October to December period this year than the 21.5 cents they received at the same time last year. This may mean the retail prices in the supermarkets may range somewhere between 35 and 50 cents a pound for an oven-dressed bird, depending on the size, the quality, and the brand of the turkey. Generally, the larger sized turkeys are better buys than the lighter breeds because the per-pound price is less and there is more meat in comparison to bone in the large turkeys.

Turkey prices to producers were held down somewhat early in the year by a rather heavy carryover of frozen turkeys in cold storage. This backlog was pulled down rather substantially to more normal levels during the summer. By Aug. 1 the cold storage stock of turkeys was 26 per cent below the same time in 1968.

Government purchases for the school lunch program and surplus commodities distributed to poor relief helped in the storage stock reduction. From July 1, when government purchases began, until the last announced purchase on Oct. 8, purchases of processed canned and boned turkey for surplus commodity distribution was the equivalent of 70.6 million pounds of whole turkey carcasses, and purchases of whole frozen turkeys for the school lunch program was better than 20 million pounds.

Auto Hits Sign, Ditch A 1960 two-door auto struck a state speed limit sign next to South Fourth street, Veeze, a short distance south of the Wiggins highway and was abandoned after coming to rest in a ditch, police discovered at 5:10 a.m. Sunday. The driver had left, and the car was towed to a garage. The vehicle had sustained front end and left rear damage.

Hunters Must Pay Fees in Areas Managed by State

managed goose, pheasant or duck hunting areas where a permit is required must pay the fee.

Dan Malkovich, assistant director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, said that last year 245 persons were given opportunity to hunt on these state-managed areas but were not charged.

"This does not include the 776 free permits issued to landowners on the three pheasant areas where the department leases the hunting rights," Malkovich said. "According to department records from last year, 800 hunters did not pay to hunt on the southern Illinois goose areas. In addition, 1382 free hunters, not including landowners, were on our seven pheasant areas. We had 103 free hunters on the Sanganois-Knapp Island duck area, the only duck ground where permits were required last year," Malkovich said.

"It had been department policy in the past to allow conservation employees, members of the General Assembly and newspapers, radio and television station employees to hunt free of charge on the permit areas," Malkovich said.

"Every year the line grew longer, more and more hunters assumed that privilege," he added. "It's hard to know when to say 'no' in such a case. Therefore, according to our new policy, everyone who hunts pays."

"In line with the policy, no one gets any preferential treatment, either," he said. "All hunters, conservation employees, press people — everyone — will draw for the available pits and blinds or areas on equal basis."

Madison High Athletic Affiliation Undecided

With the Midwestern prep athletic conference possibly to be disbanded after the 1970-71 season with the departure of four of its six members to join a new conference, the future plans of Madison high school athletic teams are undecided.

The Midwestern Conference began in 1952 with Madison high school providing the initiative for its formation.

Discussions on a new conference involve Bethalto, Highland, Triad and Roxana of the Midwestern loop; Wood River of the Southwestern Conference and O'Fallon, Jerseyville and Mascoutah, which have no present conference affiliations.

MHS Principal Richard Brown is charged with the responsibility for Madison's athletic affiliations.

He is hoping for an invitation to join the new league talks and will attend a Midwestern Conference coaches' meeting tomorrow evening to "sound out" the other schools' representatives and determine the probable future of the present conference.

Roxana and Bethalto are the apparent leaders of the movement for a new league.

Principal Brown reports "My first reaction was to try to save the Midwestern Conference and have a four-team league." But with Triad and Highland extended invitations to planning talks regarding a new league, Dupu and Madison might remain as the only members of the Midwestern Conference in insufficient number to function.

Granite City PRESS-RECORD
Page 8 Mon., Nov. 17, 1969

For the second year, the Madison City Organization Auxiliary is preparing Christmas gift boxes for servicemen, with the group currently seeking the names and addresses of all Madison men now serving in the Armed Forces at home or overseas.

In asking parents and relatives to list a serviceman to provide the auxiliary with their names and addresses, Mrs. Charles Voloski notes that members have utilized the "Yule Mail Call" lists, whenever possible, but she added, in many instances, the hometown residence of the serviceman is not recognized from the published names.

Any Madison family wishing to list a serviceman with the auxiliary should call Mrs. Voloski, at 876-7789, or mail the name and address of the person to 1010 Seventh street, Madison. The club sent 37 gift boxes last Christmas.

The Madison women's group has sewn "ditty bags" and collected an assortment of gifts to place inside Mrs. Voloski said. She explained that a list of items frequently requested by military personnel in Vietnam, published recently in the Press-Record, "was very useful in determining just what to include in the packages."

The gift boxes contain bill-point pens, cans of nuts and candies, shoelaces, a stamp, a comb and other grooming aids, cigarette lighters, minus fluid for safety purposes, toothbrushes and greeting cards, among other items.

Club members plan to pack most of the boxes this evening at the Madison recreation center, with only the names and addresses of the servicemen to be added as they are received. Gift parcels destined for overseas will be mailed via PAL (Parcel Air-Lift), which has a deadline mailing date of Nov. 28, Mrs. Voloski said.

Included in today's "Yule Mail Call" list is a Granite City sailor whose wife recently joined him on Guam.

EM/3 Michael J. Gaudette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gaudette, 1218 West Ponton road, was assigned to Guam last January and is expected to remain at the same location until 1971.

His wife, the former Veronica Long of Wehmona, N.J., recently joined her husband on Guam, where the couple will reside on recognized from the published names.

Also listed in this issue are the two Navy sons of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Puent, 1117 Hampden street, Venice.

GC Schools Seek Injunction Against County on Taxes

The Granite City school district tried an injunction suit against Madison county Thursday in circuit court seeking to enjoin the county from attempting to collect real estate taxes on the former Stolze property, 20th and Adams streets, now being used as the district's administrative offices.

Named as defendants were John Maeras, county treasurer and tax collector; Miss Eulalia Ho, county clerk; and R. W. Griffith, state's attorney.

According to the complaint, the district obtained the property on contract for deed on July 3, 1968, and it became exempt from real estate taxes after Aug. 14, 1968.

The district claims that Maeras has refused to exempt the property from taxation, and that he refused to accept a pro-rated second installment on the tax which the district has tendered.

The district contends that further payments would constitute double taxation on taxpayers in the district. The complaint adds that the county threatens to place the property in its forthcoming tax sale.

The court is asked to order Maeras to accept the sum of $600.98 in full payment of all taxes which may be due for the year 1968 without penalty, interest, and that the county pay the cost of the suit.

Pre-Thanksgiving Trip Plans Advisable—Chief

Chief of Police Ronald J. Veltzer today advised that a pre-Thanksgiving trip planning can save drivers a lot of trouble going or returning.

"Plan a sensible schedule," he said. "Know your route before you start. Get plenty of rest. Make frequent rest stops along the way."

He continued: "Out-of-town Thanksgiving trips often coincide with our first severe winter weather. Be ready to cancel your trip if the weather turns vicious."

"That takes good strategy," Chief Veltzer concluded.

"The International Association of Chiefs of Police recommends a bucket of sand or cinders, a shovel, tow chain, reinforced tire chains, booster cables, flares or other emergency lighting equipment."

"And during winter months it is essential to carry emergency equipment in your car," Chief Veltzer concluded.

"The International Association of Chiefs of Police recommends a bucket of sand or cinders, a shovel, tow chain, reinforced tire chains, booster cables, flares or other emergency lighting equipment."

The Garden Corner

Fall Care of Strawberry Plantings

Your 1970 strawberry crop might be improved by doing some work now. Late formed runner plants produce only a few small berries. Removal of these plants will reduce the competition with more productive plants for nutrients and water. They can be chopped out with a hoe and this will space the remaining plants to a suggested 4 to 6 plants per square foot of row.

Row width can also be controlled by hoeing out extra plants along the row edge. Remove the winter annual weeds such as dandelion and chickweed at this time.

The season's work with strawberries is not finished until they are put to sleep with the covering of winter mulch. This mulch should be applied after several sharp freezes stop the growth of the strawberries. Usually, this is around Thanksgiving, but it can be earlier or later. A 20 degree minimum temperature is a good guideline. If the mulch is applied too early, the green berry leaves will mold and rot, causing more problems than the mulch will cure.

Winter mulches are applied primarily to prevent heaving of the plants. Heaving breaks most of the plant roots and can kill the plant. Mulching also delays blossoming in the spring so as to avoid frost damage, and provides a cover on the ground to prevent dirty berries.

Mulching materials should be as free of seed and weed seed as possible. Wheat straw is the most commonly used material. Apply the mulch thick enough to have a two-inch layer when it is settled. This usually requires 2 to 4 bales per 1000 square feet.

Garden Clean-Up

Now is the time to clean up your garden and start plans for next year. The plant residues should either be composted or turned under by plowing or spading. Vegetables, weeds and grasses that are mixed in the soil while still green will decompose rapidly into beneficial humus. If they are allowed to die and dry, decomposition is much slower and the old plants can interfere with cultivation next year.

A cover crop of rye, oats or rye-grass can be turned or left until spring. Fall spading or plowing may permit earlier gardening next spring. This depends upon your soil type, location, and the weather.

However, do all that you can to prevent erosion by winter winds and rain.

Equipment Clean-Up

Garden equipment should be winterized as well as the garden. Proper care of equipment now will mean earlier gardening next spring.

Hand tools should be cleaned so that they are free of dirt and rust. Coat all exposed metal parts with oil for protection against moisture, and store in a dry, sheltered area.

Gasoline engines on your power equipment need extra care. Drain the crankcase and refill with clean oil. Drain the gas from both the tank and carburetor. The easiest way to do this is to drain the tank, and then let the engine run long enough to drain the carburetor.

Grease and oil all fittings. Remove the sparkplug and add a few drops of oil in the hole. Turn the flywheel or crankshaft a few times to distribute the oil and grease on all surfaces.

Now is a good time to have the engine tuned up if it needs it. Small-engine repair shops can give you better service now than during the rush of next spring. Also check for worn belts and parts and get these replaced.

Sprayers should have all the water drained out to prevent freezing. A good brushing or washing to remove all residue will reduce corrosion. Following the clean-up, coat all metal cylinder and fastener parts with a lightweight oil. As with engines, make repairs and replacements now.

'Y' Membership Candy Sale Is Continuing

The YMCA youth department is still giving area youngsters an opportunity to earn a "Y" membership through a candy sale. The sale will run Saturday.

Children interested in earning a membership may report to the youth office and check out various candies available. The child must be accompanied by a parent. A youth is entitled to a full-privilege one-year youth membership by selling 37 boxes of candy.

Charles Hassé, youth director, said children who have participated so far have been successful in selling the candy. He said the "Y" feels it is a worthwhile endeavor, allowing children to earn their membership and making it more meaningful to them. Other information may be obtained by calling the "Y" youth department.

Ottwein Is Elected to World Ministry Board

Dr. Merrill Ottwein of Eden United Church of Christ in Edwardsville was elected Thursday to the board of directors of the United Church Board for World Ministries. The election took place at the 180th annual meeting of the mission board at St. John's United Church in Allentown, Pa. He is the local Illinois senator.

The board is the overseas service and missionary agency of the United Church of Christ. The two-million-member denomination represents a union of the Congregational Christian and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches. The annual meeting brings together members of the board from all parts of the country, staff and service missionary personnel from overseas.

Dr. Ottwein became a member of the corporate board of the mission board earlier in the year. Members of the board of directors are chosen from the larger corporate board. He was one of six new directors named for four-year terms.

Missing Check Cashed After Smaller Deposit

A Madison man reported to Granite City police Thursday afternoon that a person unknown to him had deposited $25 to his account at American National Bank and then cashed a $236 check in his name on the account of a John Jarrett of Cahokia.

An investigation by Granite City detectives showed the check in question was missing from Jarrett's home about Oct. 28. The Cahokia resident said he signed it but the amount and name of a payee were not completed. The deposit ticket, made on a bank account belonging to the Madisonian also was stolen. Police are continuing to investigate the case.

Hole Shot in Window

Someone shot a BB hole in the north side window of Ingleside tavern, 23rd street and Madison avenue, it was reported at 1:20 p.m. Friday.

LIGHTING OF THE TREE. Gathering at the Tree of Lights in Memorial Park Saturday morning. The tree at left symbolizes a $7000 fund which is to be used to provide food baskets and clothing to needy families at Christmas.

SIU-SW's Debate Team To Travel 19,000 Miles

Southern Illinois University's debate team at Southwestern will travel 19,000 miles this year to participate in major college and university tournaments. Last year's mileage was 9000.

The team's first national trip this year was to a tournament at Texas Christian University, where Jeff Burns of O'Fallon and Dan Wille, Wood River, finished fourth in the contest. Fifty-four colleges from 13 states were entered, with 58 teams in the senior division and 80 in the junior division. Burns and Wille are sophomores.

An investigation by Granite City detectives showed the check in question was missing from Jarrett's home about Oct. 28. The Cahokia resident said he signed it but the amount and name of a payee were not completed. The deposit ticket, made on a bank account belonging to the Madisonian also was stolen. Police are continuing to investigate the case.

The SIU-SW debaters took part Friday and Saturday in a two-day tourney at the University of Houston. Nov. 21-22 they will be at Wichita State in Kansas. This year they are deliberating the topic, "Resolved that the federal government should grant a specific percentage of its income tax revenues to the state government."

Salden came from SIU, Carbondale, last year, determined that if there was to be a program in forensics at Southwestern, it would be a good one. "So we are doing as much as the budget will bear. We are working for quality, not quantity."

"Since our program is in its infancy," Salden explained, "we are building from the ground up, placing emphasis on recruiting good high school graduates who have demonstrated forensic ability. This is our best guarantee of a solid active participants this year and two upperclassmen. Thirty showed up—they liked the idea of traveling—but most of them fell by the wayside when they realized they had to work."

Salden continued, "We have 10 active participants this year and two upperclassmen. Thirty showed up—they liked the idea of traveling—but most of them fell by the wayside when they realized they had to work."

If we could use our potential, we could be one of the best in the nation."

The SIU-SW coach believes his debaters are good public relations agents. "We're carrying the banner of SIU-SW throughout the country," he claims. "People are beginning to realize there is an SIU at Edwardsville as well as at Carbondale."

Debating is an intellectual challenge, Salden believes. "It is for the sharper student. The debater must be keen, able to pinpoint what he wants to say and do it concisely and convincingly. This doesn't mean he has to be an egghead. Eggheads don't make good debaters. Both President Nixon and Senator Muskie have stated publicly that debate training was a significant factor in their success."

In addition to the intellectual value of competitive forensics, Salden explained, "our program recognizes the need for and desirability of social contact with young people who represent the broad spectrum of American life."

where he was a teaching fellow. He has also taught at San Antonio College.

Born in San Diego, Salden now lives in Granite City. He was married in October to Peggy Lee Henon of Collinsville. A local member of the team is Peggy Salden of Granite City.

Farm Rates Survey

A farm custom rates survey made by the University of Illinois Department of Agricultural Economics shows higher rates are being paid for most custom hire now as compared with 1965.

More than 480 reports were completed by farmers who indicated what custom rates they paid or charged during 1965. Several Madison county farmers were included in the survey.

The most frequent rate charged in southern Illinois for spring plowing of stalkland is $4 an acre compared with $3 in 1965. Disking plowed ground is $2 an acre, up 50 cents. Planting corn is $2 an acre, also up 50 cents.

Combining or picker-shelling corn is $8 an acre up $2 since 1965. But the charge is on a per-bushel basis, the rate has remained the same at 10 cents a bushel.

The most frequent rate paid in this area for several other custom jobs is as follows: Spike-tooth, harrowing, $1 an acre. Chisel plowing, $4. Row cultivating, $1.50. Rotary hoeing, $1. Planting corn in 40-inch or 30-inch rows, $2. Planting soybeans in 40-inch rows, $2. In 30-inch rows, $3. Drilling small grain alone, $1.50. With grass seed or fertilizer, $2.

A common rate for drying corn is one cent per bushel per point of moisture with five cents per bushel minimum. Some charge $5 an acre for picking ear corn. Others charge 10 cents a bushel. The most frequent rate for combining soybeans is $6 an acre.

Rates for other farm custom jobs are listed in the report, "Custom Rates and Machine Rental Rates," now available at the county Extension office.

Custom rates often vary considerably within a geographical area. Such variations are given in the report.

One reason rates vary is the time required to perform the operation. This is influenced by topography, size and shape of the field, crop yields, weather during the year, size of the machine, weeds, and conditions of the crop. Competition in the local area also affects the rate. If many machines are available, the rates will drop, and where there are few implements the rates will be higher.

The survey also collected a few reports on rates charged for custom contract farming. Custom contract farming is a new development in which the custom operator contracts with a landowner to perform all the field operations for the crops on his farm.

Thirty-two farmers who engaged in custom farming reported the rates they charged. There were three methods of arriving at charges: 1. The sum of the charges for the amount of each operation actually performed in producing the crops. 2. A flat rate for performing all the field operations necessary to produce the crops. 3. Either method 1 or 2 plus an incentive bonus.

Those who used the flat-rate method reported the following charges per acre for custom farming: Corn, $20.27 average with a range from $23 to $36. Soybeans, $25.54 average with a range from $23 to $31. Wheat, $15 per acre. Diversed acres, $7.77.

Rates charged for only renting farm machinery, with no other charges included, also are reported. The most frequent rate per acre paid for quent rate per acre paid for use of farm machines is: Plow, $1.20. Disk, stalk shredder, field cultivator, chisel plow, row cultivator, or corn planter, $1. Rotary hoe, 50 cents. Grain drill, 75 cents.

Custom work and machine rental enable farmers to obtain the benefits of specialized machines that they cannot economically own or operate with the small volume of work on their farms.

Owners of these machines and those who hire the use of them are interested in knowing what rates are fair to both parties. One guide is the rates that are currently being charged. The other is the cost of performing the operation.

Most of the custom rates in this area are the same or very close to the average rates in the entire state.

Caution on Desiccants

More farmers than usual in Madison county probably will ask whether they should spray soybean fields with a desiccant before harvest to kill the weeds.

The usual answer is "No." Desiccants will dry weeds but not make them disappear. If applied before beans mature, desiccants interfere with filling-out of the beans and reduce yield.

No desiccants are cleared for soybeans raised for food, feed, or oil processing. Dinitro, endosulfan, and dieldrin are cleared for use as desiccants in soybeans raised for seed.

Corn ears in many Madison county fields are still filling out as well as we like. The main problem is kernels not filling out to the tips of the ears. As in past years, we know several things that will cause poor filling of ears, but it's difficult to identify the specific cause.

Farmers are beginning to play the guessing game of how much the corn will yield this year. Some say their corn will yield less than last year and others believe it will yield more. They probably all are right.

Flooded Areas, Upland
Much corn in the county still shows severe damage from earlier floods. A lot of the early planted corn on upland looks excellent.

Last year's county average of 74 bushels of corn per acre in Madison county was nothing to brag about. It averaged a record 96 bushels per acre in 1967, 61 bushels in the drought year before, and 86 bushels in the good year of 1965.

Anyone can play the guessing game, and my guess is corn here this year will yield equal to or a few bushels above last year's 74 bushels per acre average.

Loans Explained

Add-on and discount loans are rather common in our present-day financing. We ought to be familiar with these terms. To understand how they work, let's compare them in terms of true annual interest.

If you borrow $1000 at 8% interest, you receive $1000. At the end of the year, you return the $1000 plus $80 interest. That would be 8% true annual interest.

With an add-on loan, you borrow and receive $1000. If the stated interest rate is 8% and the loan is for one year, the lender would add $80 interest to the original $1000 and you would repay the $1080 in monthly installments. This would make the true interest rate 14.8%.

A discount loan is one in which the total interest you will owe is deducted in advance from the amount you borrow. Only $920 on a $1000 loan at 8% would be available. If the loan were to be paid at the end of the year, you would return the $920 plus the $80 interest or a total of $1000. The true interest rate would be 8.7%.

If the discount loan were repaid in monthly installments on the $1000 loan ($920 actually received plus $80 interest), the true annual interest rate would be 16.1%.

New Ribless Corduroy

To most consumers, corduroy means a cut-pile fabric with vertical ribs or wales. But there's a new corduroy on the market—one without ribs. Marjorie Sohn, University of Illinois Extension clothing specialist, explains that no-rib corduroy has a sheared, napped surface. The fabric looks like velvet, but it is more sturdy and practical than velvet. The suede-like surface takes on an eye-catching sheen, especially suited to dress garments but also popular in today's casual wear. Consequently, a wide variety of garments come in ribless corduroy—date dresses and theatre coats, as well as sports wear and outer wear of all descriptions. Because ribless corduroy is soft and washable, consumers rate it a favorite for children's clothes. The new fabric comes in a variety of colors, but creamy beige shades and other basics, such as brown, green, turquoise, and cranberry red, predominate.

Pressing Tips

Good pressing helps to restore the original shape of a garment after it has been worn. You might follow these pressing tips: Press in the direction of the grain. Lengthwise and crosswise sets of threads are at right angles to one another when the grain of the fabric is straight. For a garment to look and fit right, the grain must be kept in this position. Proper pressing will help to keep the grain straight. And be sure to place the garment on the ironing board so that the grainline is straight. Press from the wide to the narrow part of dress sections, as a general rule. This means pressing from the hem to the waistline of the skirt, from the armhole to the waistline of a blouse, and from the armhole to the bottom of a sleeve. Press straight seams flat, keeping the seamlines straight. When pressing hems, hold the iron at right angles with the hem line. Pressing around the hem or with a circular motion may stretch the edge of the hem. Hold a flat curve, such as a neckline, in its curved position while pressing it. Press on the wrong side of cloth, if possible. Otherwise use a pressing cloth, especially when pressing wool, synthetics, and blends. Don't overpress. Use a light touch. Some fabrics show seam and hem imprints easily. For such fabrics, use a pressing roll or strips of brown paper under seam allowances. To avoid the imprint of a hemline, press from the right side over extra padding such as a Turkish towel. Imprints that appear may sometimes be removed by light steaming and brushing on the right side of the cloth. Hold the steam iron slightly above the surface of the fabric. Hang the pressed garment on a well-shaped hanger until it is completely dry before storing or wearing it.

NEW TELETYPE LINK from the Granite City police department to the National Crime Information Center in Washington, D. C., and to the Law Enforcement Agencies Data System at Springfield which went into operation here this week. Officer Kelly Hodges is operating the machine during a training session.

GC Police Now Linked To Crime Memory Banks

By M. E. BARTOSIAK

The Granite City police department now has direct access to crime information contained in computerized memory banks in Washington, D. C., and in Springfield.

A new Western Union teletype link with the National Crime Information Center (NCIC) in Washington and the Law Enforcement Agencies Data System (LEADS) at Springfield went into operation this week with the training of seven police officers in its use.

Information contained in the NCIC and LEADS systems is available within seconds.

Hildreth "Bud" Baker, radio technician at District 11 headquarters of the Illinois State Police who served as instructor, said that by going through a computer operated by the Illinois Department of Public Safety, the machine can be used in police work to the extent of any stolen article, and information can be entered into both the filing systems at LEADS and NCIC from this location.

Varied Information

The center in Washington has obtained two million pieces of information since July 1, Baker said, and includes data on felons, stolen autos and license plates, guns, other types of property, and missing persons. Three hundred cities in Illinois are involved in the system, and the files created by the system can be checked by anyone with a connection to it, he explained.

"You can tell if a car is stolen in five seconds," he said. "A patrolman spotting a suspicious auto can call in the license number and learn almost immediately if the car or the license is stolen."

If the answer is affirmative, he added, the patrolman can apprehend the thief and at the same time be prepared to protect himself.

Relates Cases

As an example of the workings of the system, Baker related a case of a man attempting to cash a stolen check at a Collinsville bank.

The man's auto license number was noted on the check, and while the teller was away from the window, the man walked away. Information on the case was transmitted to the memory banks.

Before long the man was stopped in another state for a routine traffic violation. The license number was transmitted to NCIC and the police there were able to determine that he was wanted in Collinsville.

The system also saves valuable time used in investigations of crimes, which often takes months of work, Baker pointed out.

He said the system now is in operation in Alton and Wood River and is to be established in the Madison county sheriff's office and at the Edwardsville police department.

Baker is to train seven additional officers in the two-day course next week. Those completing the course this week were Robert Astorian, Gerald Pinkerton, Elwyn Dickey, Ira Smith, Kelly Hodges, Leo Willis and Dennis Chenault. Lt. Kenneth Watts is officer in charge.

Theodore Sherfy, 52, Stricken at Work, Dies

Theodore Sherfy sr., 52, of 2210 Nevada avenue, a lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, was stricken with an apparent heart attack while working at the Terminal Railroad yards in St. Louis Thursday evening and was pronounced dead upon arrival at Missouri Pacific Hospital, St. Louis, at 6 p.m.

Management is Topic Of Optimist Meeting

"Philosophy of Management" was the topic discussed by Richard Lich, president of the Castings Division of General Steel Industries, at the Granite City Optimist Club luncheon meeting Thursday at the Rose Bowl.

During his talk, Lich traced the early development of General Steel management through the years from the time it was Commonwealth Steel Co. to the present time. He said that in his opinion many current day management techniques were actually developed in the local plant years ago.

Lich added he hopes to do more research on the subject since the local plant was a pioneer of industry and some of the trial management programs now are accepted principles.

He also said it is not the physical plant that makes industry as much as the philosophy of management, an informed staff and the people themselves.

Ernest E. Vohl was the program chairman for the meeting.

Jerry McDonald, president, conducted a brief business meeting, alerting the members they are to begin selling 41 tickets for the annual Christmas tree sale. Each ticket may be used towards the purchase price of the holiday tree.

He also told the group that 12 local members will attend the Godfrey, Ill., charter meeting for a new Optimist Club on Nov. 23. U. S. Senator Ralph Smith will be the main speaker.

SIU-SW Dental School to Use Alton Center

Five buildings at the Alton Center of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, have been allocated for use by the new School of Dental Medicine.

The buildings will be used temporarily until a permanent structure can be constructed at the main campus.

Dr. Frank J. Sobkowski, dean of the School of Dental Medicine, says the five buildings will be a major break for the school. "If we didn't have temporary facilities, it would be five to seven years before we could admit our first class of dental students."

Dean Sobkowski has been on the job since July. Included in the Dental Medicine buildings will be two former residences which will be used for administrative and supporting services offices.

Loomis Hall will be redeveloped as a learning center for the school. Dental education, classrooms and clinical facilities will be housed in the Science Building and health sciences research to support the Dental Medicine program will be developed in Annex A.

The Alton Center is the former home of Shurtleff College. Buildings not used by Dental Medicine will continue in use for college classrooms.

James Comer, assistant to Chancellor John S. Rendleman of Southern Illinois, pointed out, "there are enough additional facilities at Alton to accommodate current classroom programs. Additional space being reserved to take care of the anticipated growth of that center plus room for programs which may need to be transferred from Edwardsville because of annual enrollment increases."

Comer added, "The University is considering all possible alternatives in the efficient use of the Alton center. Great care is being exercised so that space needs for on-going programs of the University will be accommodated."

"We really consider ourselves fortunate that the space is available on the Alton campus to take care of the immediate needs of the School of Dental Medicine," Comer said.

This year there are 574 students attending classes at Alton. Until the Southwestern campus was opened, the Alton Center and the old East St. Louis high school were the only places SIU-SW had for classes.

Dean Sobkowski said the use of the Alton Center will allow students the privilege of becoming identified with the Alton community.

Auxiliary Organized Here For Easter Seal Society

Mrs. Patricia Rigney was elected to the office of president of the Granite City Auxiliary of Easter Seal Society of Southern Illinois for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., at the first organizational meeting of the group Thursday evening in the Tiny Tim classroom at Central Christian Church.

Other officers elected for the 1970 year are Mrs. Janet Wilson, vice-president; Mrs. Norma Darnell, recording secretary; Mrs. Norma Kinder, treasurer; Mrs. Margaret Minzes, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Margaret Barton, publicity chairman.

During the meeting, Mrs. Janet Wilson was named to serve as chairman of the holiday project of selling Christmas cards for the Easter Seal Society. Anyone wishing to purchase the cards may call Mrs. Wilson at 876-4844.

The local auxiliary was formed with 15 members and has hopes of increasing the membership with local people who are interested in advancing the current programs for crippled children and adults through the Easter Seal Society.

Mrs. Marie Ropp, executive director of the Easter Seal Society with administrative offices in Alton, announced this week the appointment of Mrs. Rigney as a new director of the board for the Society.

Mrs. Rigney, active in civic, community and church affairs, is a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church, belongs to the St. Joseph's Parents and Friends, St. Ann's Altar Society and is leader for the Junior Girl Scout Troop 104 at St. Joseph's school.

The Easter Seal board of 31 members, which includes Mrs. Rigney, Robert Moske and Mrs. Ralph Wilson all of Granite City, represents the seven counties — Bond, Clinton, Jersey, Madison, Monroe, St. Clair and Washington. The board meets quarterly in November, February, May and August to review programs and policies that will best serve the physically handicapped.

Services offered during the 1968-69 year by the Society included speech therapy classes at Alton, Granite City, Belleville and O'Fallon, under the direction of Certified speech therapists for 107 adults and 83 children.

Occupational therapy served 94 adults and 10 children; Tiny Tim pre-schools, licensed by the state, in Alton, Belleville and Granite City for children ages three to seven, had a total attendance of 48.

The Camp Easter Seal operated at Monticello College during the summer as a day camp was sponsored by the Alton Junior Service League, assisted by the Auxiliary of the Society, for youngsters three through age 10, and had an attendance of 35 for two week camp.

The Highland Easter Seal Day Camp at Lindendale Park, sponsored by the Highland Junior Woman's Club, provided a two-week camp for 10 children, ages 5-12.

Loan equipment, including wheel chairs, relaxation chairs, audio training units, walkers, crutches, at no cost to the individual, served 51 people.

The Easter Seal Society also provided referral and counseling services to nursing homes, access to leaflets and books on specific handicaps with information on the care of people so afflicted.

About 5000 additional volunteers in the campaign, office and pre-schools and camps helped to make the services possible.

Goals for the 1969-70 year have been a summer day camp in Belleville and surrounding areas; to extend speech therapy services to nursing homes in other areas; and "Careers in Rehabilitation" programs for high school students.

Principal speaker at the conference will be William K. Durr, professor of education at Michigan State University and president of the International Reading Association.

Durr will speak on comprehension skills and reading. He will address a morning and afternoon general session of the conference.

Dean W. Deane Wiley of the Education Division of SIU-SW will welcome those attending the conference.

Twenty-six special consultants from throughout the area will preside over sessions in various reading fields. They include Mrs. Elizabeth Briggs, Granite City, a kindergarten teacher at Parkview school.

Duquesne U. Tamburitzan Dance Troupe to Perform

The Duquesne University Tamburitzan dance troupe from Pittsburgh, Pa., will perform at Southern Illinois University - Southwest on Nov. 23 at 8 p.m. in the Meridian room of the University Center.

The group is made up of 30 student-artists who take their name from the basic instrument they play, the "tamburitzan." They play folk instruments, such as the Bulgarian "guduki," and perform a variety of folk dances.

The Tamburitzans have performed throughout the United States and Canada, and recently returned from a Latin American tour.

The Miami Herald calls the troupe "a group of wonderful cog" whose ethnic dancing, singing and playing of native instruments is better than that of "any show business" ethnic troupe.

The event is being sponsored by the Slavic and East European Friends and the International Folklore Federation of St. Louis.

Tickets are available at the information desk in the University Center of Southern Illinois University - Southwest; Meidich's Restaurant at 1538 Grav. St. Louis, or by writing to the International Folklore Federation, 5 Ladue Estates, St. Louis, Mo., 63141.

Ticket prices are $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. A reception will follow the performance in the Mississippi room of the University Center.

Side of Auto Struck

The left side of the auto of Howard Hale, 2522 Sheridan avenue, was struck by a hit-and-run car while it was parked in front of his home at 11:15 a.m. Friday.

Memorial Service Set Nov. 24 by K. of C.'s

Tri-Cities Council 1068 of the Knights of Columbus will hold its annual memorial service for deceased members at a "white" Mass at 7:30 p.m. next Monday, Nov. 24, at St. Joseph's Church. It was announced at a meeting Thursday night.

Special invitations are being mailed to widows and families, and the public also is invited to the Mass.

Rev. Thomas Treece, council chaplain, will be the celebrant. The coronation will be incorporated into the new "white" (joyful) funeral Mass by Rev. Martin Luther, pastor of the host church.

A panel discussion on the liturgy and changes in the church and Mass ceremonies will be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

On the panel will be Rev. John Franklin of Charleston, former assistant pastor at St. Elizabeth Church here, and Rev. Treece and Rev. Mangano. A question-and-answer session will be held. The public is invited.

Honor 58-Year Member

During the meeting, an honorary life membership award was presented by Michael Schuler, grand knight, to William Boerckel, veteran council chancellor. He has been a member of the council for 58 years.

Schuler reported that membership applications are arriving as a result of a drive conducted the previous Sunday at all Catholic churches.

Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, former chaplain, requested that the council take part in a strategy meeting to be held Dec. 11 at St. Margaret Mary's Church in a statewide effort to obtain state financial aid for private schools.

The school question is becoming increasingly difficult, he said, and the Granite City school district may soon be faced with accepting another 1200 children now attending parochial schools.

The council agreed to subscribe to Boys Life magazine for members of Boy Scout Troop 18, which the council sponsors, at the request of Frank Kraus, who has been appointed commissioner. He announced that Ray Seibert is the new scoutmaster.

The council also contributed $25 to the Salvation Army Tree of Lights. Food and refreshments were served after the meeting.

Washington Mishap

Break Glass in Door

Oliver Roderick, owner of Roderick's restaurant, 2723 East 24th street, reported at 11 a.m. Friday that vandals threw a rock through the rear door of the building, breaking the glass.

3 Crashes at Parking Lots on Nameoki Road

A collision occurred at 1:35 p.m. Saturday on the Nameoki Village parking lot involving the left side of the car of Janet Yeager, 3028 Myrtle avenue, and front of the auto of Milton Olmsted, 3925a Village lane.

Two minutes later, the west-bound auto of Joseph Swisher Jr., 3330 Village lane, and north-bound car of William Cowan, 1604 Garfield avenue, collided on the same shopping center lot.

At 2:05 p.m. Saturday, the Nameoki entrance of the Belleme Village parking lot was the scene of a collision which damaged the left front of the car of Billy Williams, 1524 Niedringhaus avenue, northbound on Nameoki road, and the left front of the auto of Doris Stark, 3036 Iowa street, westbound from the lot and turning left.

GRANTMASTER TIRE GUARANTEE

1. Tread Life Guarantee Against Road Hazards

We guarantee all Grantmaster tires against failures from all normal road hazards for the life of the tread with the exception of: ordinary nail punctures, fire, theft, front-end misalignment, under-inflation, over-inflation and running flat.

2. Tread Life Guarantee Against Defects

We guarantee the Grantmaster tires against all defects of material and workmanship for the life of the tread.

3. Guaranteed Against Tread Wear

The original tread is guaranteed not to wear out for the number of months designated. If tread wears out during this period, the tire should be returned to Grants and we will replace it, charging the current regular selling price plus Federal Excise Tax less the following percentage allowance toward the purchase of a new tire.

4. Basis of Adjustment: Should your Grantmaster tire require adjustment under Section 1 or 2 of the Guarantee, please return it to Grants and we will replace it by giving you a credit allowance for the unused tread, based on the current selling price, including Federal Excise Tax.

This guarantee covers tires in passenger car service only. Passenger car tires used in commercial service reduce the guarantee period by 50%.
